

ADIRONDACK JOURNAL OF ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

Seeking Common Ground Among a Multitude of Viewpoints

New AJES Leadership and Ongoing Challenges

REBECCA MCKAY STEINBERG

Colleges Re-Invent Former APA Visitor Centers

ANDY FLYNN

Project Earth: Connecting Tomorrow's Environmental Leaders Around the World

DAVID J. MILLER

A Global Perspective on the Adirondack Park: An Interview with Bill Weber

LEE GROSS

Social Media Silence: An Examination of Social Media Use in Rural New York

Political Campaigns

COLLEEN LEMZA

Monitoring Vegetation Changes in Historical Photos
Over a 45+ Year Period in the Adirondack Alpine Zone

JULIA GOREN AND CHRISTOPHER MONZ

At the Tipping Point: Private Land Use Planning in the Adirondacks

ANN RUZOW HOLLAND

AJES

VOL. 17 • 2011

Contents

PREROGATIVE

New AJES Leadership and Ongoing Challenges Rebecca McKay Steinberg 3

PROFILE

Colleges Re-Invent Former APA Visitor Centers Andy Flynn 8

Project Earth: Connecting Tomorrow's Environmental Leaders
Around the World David J. Miller 17

FEATURE

A Global Perspective on the Adirondack Park: An Interview with Bill Weber Lee Gross 20

PEER REVIEW

Social Media Silence: An Examination of Social Media Use in Rural New York
Political Campaigns Colleen Lemza 24

Monitoring Vegetation Changes in Historical Photos over a 45+ Year Period in the Adirondack
Alpine Zone Julia Goren and Christopher Monz 29

At the Tipping Point: Private Land Use Planning in the Adirondacks Ann Ruzow Holland 36

ANNOUNCEMENTS 44