

AJES

ADIRONDACK JOURNAL OF ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

Volume 1, Number 2

Fall, 1994

*"Seeking Common Ground among
A Multitude of Viewpoints"*

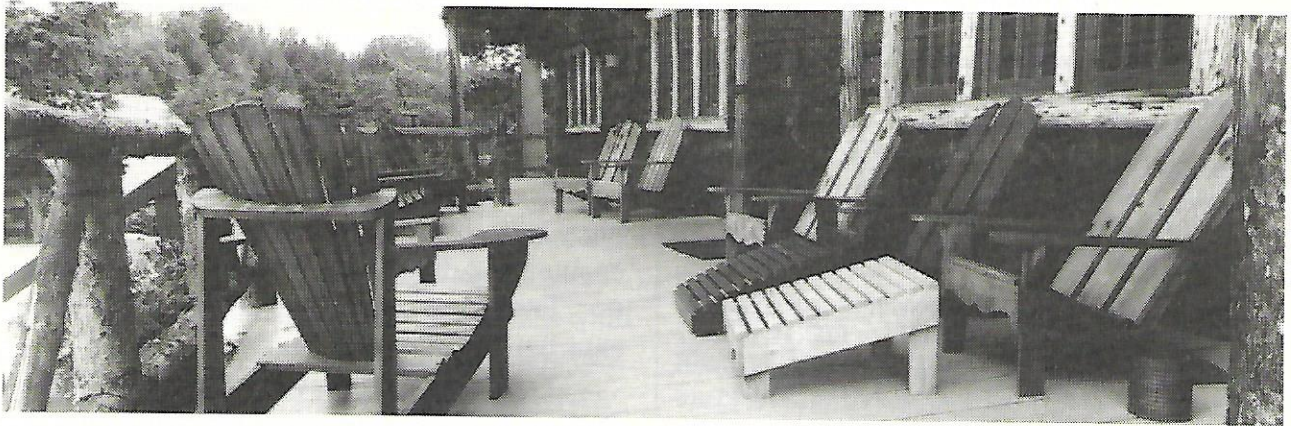

FEATURING

The Adirondacks: An Overview
Land Acquisition in the Adirondacks
A.A.T.V. — A Definition, a Direction
Sustainable Watershed Management
Adirondack Perceptions of the Forest Products Industry
Investigating Adirondack Lakes
Photography by Mark Kurtz

AJES

ADIRONDACK JOURNAL OF ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

Fall 1994

The Adirondacks: An Overview

An Adirondack activist's perspective Howard Aubin

8

Land Acquisition in the Adirondacks

The shifting politics of finding common ground Richard B. Purdue

11

A.A.T.V. — A Definition, a Direction

Setting an agenda for a proactive approach Dean D. LeFebvre

13

Sustainable Watershed Management

A case-study in sustainable development Robin Ulmer

20

Adirondack Perceptions of the Forest Products Industry

A century after "rape and run" Robert B. Buerger

25

Investigating Adirondack Lakes

Lake history through sediment analysis J. Curt Stager

30

Prerogative

2

Forum

6

Penultimate

35