

29th Annual Conference on the Adirondacks
May 15th & 16th, 2025, High Peaks Resort, Lake Placid, NY

"Resilience in Action: Addressing Climate Challenges in the Adirondacks"
Impacts, Socio-ecological Issues, Human Responses

CALL FOR PAPERS – PAPERS & POSTERS

The Adirondack Research Consortium invites scholars, practitioners, and researchers across diverse fields to present their work at the 29th Annual Conference on the Adirondacks. This interdisciplinary event provides a platform to explore the theme: “Resilience to Climate Change in the North Country: Impacts, Socio-ecological Issues, and Human Responses.”

This is an invitation to submit an abstract of a paper to be presented at the conference. Individuals may also choose to submit an abstract for a poster to be displayed throughout the proceedings which will include an opportunity to meet other conference attendees. If your paper is not accepted, you are invited to present a poster.

We welcome paper and poster submissions from various disciplines, including:

- Natural Sciences: Climate change impacts, biodiversity, water quality, and ecosystem resilience.
- Business and Economics: Sustainable economic development, renewable energy innovation, and environmental policy.
- Social Sciences: Community adaptation, housing, and public health in the face of climate challenges.
- Humanities and Arts: Cultural and historical perspectives, storytelling, and artistic expressions of resilience.

This conference offers a unique opportunity to share your work with a diverse audience of researchers, practitioners, policymakers, and community leaders, collaborate across disciplines to address pressing regional and global challenges and contribute to actionable solutions and community engagement strategies for the Adirondacks and beyond.

Submission Details

- Abstracts should be submitted electronically via adkresearchconsortium@gmail.com or by contacting the Consortium.
- Abstract Deadline: February 28th, 2025
- Decisions will be communicated by March 14th, 2025.
- If a paper is not selected for oral presentation, authors are encouraged to submit it as a poster.
- Participants are asked to register for the conference.

We also invite you to consider submitting your work for publication in the Adirondack Journal of Environmental Studies (AJES), an interdisciplinary journal highlighting research and perspectives on environmental and social issues related to the Adirondack region.

For inquiries, don't hesitate to get in touch with us at (518) 241-6186 or adkresearchconsortium@gmail.com. We look forward to receiving your submissions and working together to advance resilience and sustainability in the Adirondacks! Please share this announcement widely and join us in advancing science, collaboration, and resilience in the Adirondacks!